The Maine Wastewater Control Assn. has designated this week as Clean Water Week and urges residents to visit their local wastewater facility to learn more about the treatment process and to tour the plant. Bethel's Treatment Plant will hold an open house on Saturday, June 6, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Plant operator David Bartlett will be available to show people around and answer questions.

On Monday evening, June 1, Town Manager Norman Ness met with the Newry Planning Board to explain the Town of Bethel's proposed plans to use a portion of the former Town Farm property for the disposal of sludge from the wastewater treatment plant. He explained that following soils tests, only a small part of the property near where the old farm buildings were would be acceptable and that the remaining wooded area behind the former farm would not be acceptable due to high ground water. There was considerable discussion on the disposal of sludge particularly as to continued on Page Eight

Annual Awards Banquet to be Held Tuesday, June 16

The annual awards banquet of the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, June 16, at 7 p. m. at the Bethel Inn. A social hour will precede the banquet and awards program.

Awards to be presented include the Henry Hastings Award for outstanding citizenship, designation of an outstanding senior citizen and special recognition of local students who have demonstrated high standards of citizenship and community involvement. In addition, the awards committee considers other individuals or groups who in their opinion have helped the Bethel community in such a way that they deserve special recognition and praise from their neighbors.

Those wishing to attend the banquet and ceremony should make reservations directly to the Inn.

TELSTAR DRAMA CLUB PLAYS TONIGHT (THURSDAY)

Members of the Drama Club at Telstar Regional High School will be presenting a program on Thursday evening (tonight), June 4, at 7:30 at the school auditorium, and the public is invited.

Under the direction of faculty members, Mrs. Linda Yates and Miss June Henry, the students will present three one-act plays entitled: "Checkmate", "On Time" and "Tick Tock". Also included in the evening's entertainment will be musical numbers by a student band known as The Nameless Few.

A small admission fee will be accepted at the door.

CHAMBER REPORTS INQUIRIES AHEAD OF YEAR AGO

The application of the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce for state marketing funds was unsuccessful. However, responses to this year's advertising in Down East Magazine and in Maine Invites You have gone well beyond the 250 mark compared to last year's 50 inquiries at this time. Many of the cards and letters received so far indicate that the sender has already planned to come to the Bethel area.

Last month a new edition of the Grafton Notch brochure was received and initial distribution made.

The Maine Publicity Bureau has informed the Chamber that it will operate the Bethel Information center from the Evans Notch Motel again this year. Marlene Marshall will be the office manager assisted by Louise Haines as staff. The center will probably not open until June 30 due to budget restrictions at the MPB.

Last week The Bethel Historical Society produced a brochure on the Indian raid celebration which the Chamber will help distribute and include in all individual mailings. If businesses want copies for local display, contact the Moses Mason Museum during regular business hours (824-2908) or Don Bennett after 5 p. m. at 824-3322.

Join the Parade Aug. 1 to Commemorate Bicentennial of Bethel's Last Indian Raid

Plans are in the making for Bethel's biggest parade ever in celebration of New England's last Indian raid. So, remember the date, Aug. 1, 1981, and start planning now to have a float in the parade. It doesn't have to be elaborate, but it can be a lot of fun.

With "Heritage" as the theme, there are endless possibilities for floats featuring traditions and legends of the area, such as Molly-ockett and the hidden gold on Hemlock Island; Eleazar Twitchell, the jolly miller, singing as his mill wheel went round and round; Mrs. Jonathan Clark fearlessly bearing the Indians during the raid, thereby saving her silver shoe buckles.

Other outstanding figures in our history include Daniel Gould, Nathaniel True, Prof. Frank Hanscom, Dr. Timothy Carter, Dr. Moses Mason, Dr. William Rogers Chapman, Dr. Gehring, and William Bingham II, to mention only a few.

Or, if you prefer, portray scenes from the so-called "horse and buggy days", the little one room school, life in the 1930's when the last Indian raid celebration took place, or Bethel during World War II.

Another possibility is to demonstrate industries, arts and crafts from yesteryear—logging, making maple syrup, spinning, quilting, etc. Use your imagination—dig out those old costumes, tools and vehicles from the attic or barn chamber, and join the parade to celebrate this "once in fifty years" event.

If more information is needed on these or other items of area history, contact the Moses Mason House (824-2908) or Mrs. Donald Brown (824-2149) to get details to help you. Several people have agreed to advise or help in building floats for those who wish it. Don't hesitate to call. If not contacted by a member of the parade committee, registration forms may be obtained in Bethel at the Moses Mason House, The Fabric Emporium, Main St., or the Bethel Citizen office.

Float entries from surrounding towns are urged to participate in the parade. Entry registration forms will be available in Andover, Hanover, Newry, Gilead, Locke Mills and Bryant Pond.

The Package of Seeds I paid a dime for a package of seeds

And the clerk tossed them out with a flip.

"We've got them assorted for every man's needs."

He said with a smile on his lip, "Pansies and poppies and asters and peas!"

Ten cents a package! And pick as you please!

Now seeds are just dimes to the man in the store.

And the dimes are the things that he needs;

And I've been to buy them in seasons before.

But have thought of them merely as seeds;

But it flashed through my mind as I took them this time,

"You have purchased a miracle here for a dime!"

"You've a dime's worth of power which no man can create,

You've a dime's worth of life in your hand!

You've a dime's worth of mystery, destiny, fate,

Which the wisest cannot understand.

In this bright little package, now isn't that odd?

You've a dime's worth of something known only to God!"

These are seeds, but the plants and the blossoms are here

With their petals of various hues;

In these little pellets, so dry and so queer,

There is power which no chemist can fuse.

Here is one of God's miracles soon to unfold,

Thus for ten cents an ounce is Divinity sold!

—Edgar A. Guest (1926)

June has arrived and after the rains of last week everything looks so pretty and green. The seeds planted last week end are poking their heads out of the ground. The combination of hot weather the first of the week and the occasional showers topped off with rain all Saturday night were just right for sprouting. We also had rain all Sunday morning so Frank and I took off for the folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Norway. While there my brother, Danny, Shirli and Jacob of Canton, also came in for dinner, and other sister, Iva Holden, came to visit. We got home in time to plant some more seeds as we still had and have quite a little more to plant.

Reception at the Locke Mills Legion Hall followed the ceremony. Maid of honor was Becky Jodrey. Bridesmaids were Melinda Mason, sister of the bride; Marlene Bean and Nancy Morgan. Best man was Brad Wight, brother of the groom, and ushers were Jeff Fleece, Nathan Greenleaf and John Swan. The bride's dress was white lace over tulle with a fingertip veil. The attendants' dresses were Becky's baby blue, Melinda's mint green, Marlene's pink and Nancy's yellow. Ethelyn Wight, aunt of the groom, made silk flowers for the wedding party. The bride's bouquet was baby's breath, and the other girls' one red rose and baby's breath. Each was tied with a ribbon to match the color of the gown worn by the girls. The groom's father, and other attendants of the groom, each had a white silk carnation. The mothers and grandmothers had corsages of daisies, white roses and baby's breath.

The wedding cake was made by Ariene Bean, West Bethel, topped by the traditional bride and groom. Many friends of the couple brought dishes for the reception.

Lee Blake, brother-in-law of the bride, took wedding pictures. Terry Blake, sister of the bride, tended the gift table, and Kathy Mason, sister-in-law, and Sandra Swan served at the food table. The couple left for an unannounced honeymoon and upon returning will reside at Doon's Trailer Park in Bethel.

Friday before the wedding the families had a cook out in Newry at the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wight.

Those attending the Wight-Mason wedding from this side of the river were Joe and Jody Shimamura, and Bill, Betsy, and Justin, of Norway, came for the wedding; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aylward, their daughter, Alicia Aylward and

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

June's is summer's beginning. To me it means sounds. First of all there are the shrill and happy cries of children released from school; the happy chorus of morning birds in orchestration; the lap of waves on the shore; the rustle of the fully-leaved trees from the wind that rushes through them.

June bugs bounce against the screens for they are mysteriously peculiar in this month. More bugs begin to appear, the ladybug which helps man by feeding on aphids. There is the most fascinating of insect giants, the praying mantis. It has intrigued men by its strange appearance and habits. It is the only insect that can turn its head from side to side like a human being. There are many more; the bumble bee that delights and frightens but when perched on a sweet flower, he somehow is symbolic of summer.

Sun spreads over fields and hills, the grass and gardens.

Vegetables push their way through the soil showing green shoots. There are varieties, ferny topped carrots, radish with dark tough leaves, and little green tomatos.

This week I have done many things, fished, hiked, fought flies and mosquitoes, mowed lawns and then was worn out with a cold. Most interesting of all was a walk with a new little friend, not yet three years old. His name is Joshua, sturdy, curious, and interested in everything. A group of swallowtail butterflies took his eye on the ground in the pasture, as we passed by. But greater things were on his mind, as we went to the farm, the cows to find. One young "critter" hitched by the head he wished to know why here, he had to be fed. When I answered one question he had another. One cow looked up and said, "Moo". Joshua's eyes became pools of sunlight, as he gave a "MOO" right back.

Our next adventure was to the garden "to chase Mr. Morgan and see what he is doing." More questions, then under the fence he went at my suggestion that we go to the pond. He was half way up the hill before I got through the fence. My husband reminded me of my age by saying, "You ought to know you can't keep up with Joshua". But I did, once I made the fence and a slow start.

We cut across the hillside pasture. I heard the catbird on a tree branch proclaiming the goodness of life.

Joshua picked up a stick and "fished!" He sang a few nursery rhymes at which I marveled. He asked question one hundred, perhaps? "Why don't I get a fish?"

With some persuading he left the water's edge, still carrying his pole, and we again went to the barn. The barn swallows with their mastery of the air and lyric flight were everywhere. They laughed in their flight, swooping, dodging, and racing.

Joshua, still clinging to his fish pole and with a few tears, because he must leave, we started toward home. Along the way the trees, now so lush seemed to shiver and stretch, as the breeze touched them.

His last question, as he left with his mother, "Will you walk with me, Mrs. Morgan?" I promised at another time. He is a jewel.

Doris Hayes and I went to dinner at Lyndell Farr's on Thursday. Others there were Louvie

STATE OF MAINE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
District 63

Karen L. Brown, Representative

May 29, 1981
The final days here at the Capitol are hectic and the major issues still remain unresolved. The two committees that I am on (Taxation and the Task Force on the Highway Fund) have been working on many of these issues and a compromise has been reached in some areas, but has yet to be accepted by the House and Senate.

Inheritance/Estate Tax
For a number of years, Maine and Wisconsin had the highest death taxes in the nation and at present, Maine is the most expensive place to die in the U. S. The tax consequences have made financial consultants, tax specialists, trust officers and attorneys advise Maine citizens with even modest estates to transfer residency to other states having lower death taxes. Additionally, people thinking of moving to Maine for retirement have been advised not to do so.

Recognizing the outflow of money, the Taxation Committee has been working on legislation to phase down the Inheritance Tax and replace it with an Estate Tax equal to the Federal Credit for the State Death Tax.

In a nutshell, over a five year phase-in period, bring Maine Inheritance/Estate taxes down to the level of 10 states. To make the change in one year would reduce state revenues by about $10 million; hence a gradual phase-in beginning July, 1981, will be 85% of what it would be without the change. In subsequent years, the reductions will be 75%, 65%, 55% and 45%. By 1986, Maine's tax levels will be substantially the same as the so-called "Florida Tax".

I feel that in the long run people electing to remain in Maine will, by paying income, excise and property taxes, more than make up the loss in state revenues. Also, by not taking money out of the state, Maine's financial institutions will benefit the state by having more bank reserves, which in turn means more loanable funds for our local economy. One bank indicated that $44M in deposits have been transferred over the past five years. Hopefully this legislation will help to keep this money in the state.

Our callers this week were Mr. and Mrs. Montie Millett, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Avery, Pittsfield, N. H., Doris Hayes, Local.

One of the Sunday, Aug. 2, Indian raid events will be the parade around the Common for children 12 years of age and under.

Come on, kids, start asking Mom and Dad, or better still, Gram and Gramp, about by-gone days. Who were interesting citizens that you could represent, and how did they dress?

How about decorating your bike, trike, cart, or doll carriage up fancy for the parade? Just think—in 2031, when the next Indian raid celebration should take place, you can say, "I was there!" and have fun recalling the "good old days!"

NOTE to Moms and Dads: Help your children learn something of their heritage and have fun at the same time. Help them plan a costume for the parade.

ADULT AND COMMUNITY ED. GRADUATION HELD MAY 26

The S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education Program held graduation exercises for the Adult High School Diploma program on Tuesday evening, May 26, in the Telstar Regional High School Cafeteria. Ten adults received high school credentials during the ceremony, with eight earning Telstar Regional High School diplomas and two receiving their GED certificates, indicating successful completion of the high school equivalency examination. Two individuals also earned GED certificates during 1980-81 but were not present at the May 26 ceremony.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell welcomed the students, families and guests to the program, and introduced the various speakers. Rev. David Wuori of Andover, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Andover and the Locke Mills Union Church, offered the invocation and benediction. Professor Eldred Rolfe of Wilton, chairman of the Department of Geography at the University of Maine at Farmington, was the main speaker. Rolfe, a native of Bethel and graduate of Gould Academy, spoke to the graduates concerning the qualities essential to the educated person, including the ability to communicate verbally and in writing, the acquiring of essential skills and a level of expertise in several fields and the ability to continue learning throughout one's life. He remarked that many of his best students at the college level have been adults who have returned to college later in life.

S. A. D. #44 Superintendent of Schools Wayne Gersen offered congratulations to the graduates on behalf of the S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors and administration, and commented on his personal experience with Adult and Community Education classes both as a teacher and a student.

Mrs. Eva Twitchell of Bryant Pond, Chairman of the S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors, awarded diplomas to the graduates. The adults receiving their high school credentials were Doreen Belle-garde, Mary Ann Bonney, Mildred Chapman, Nesta Littlefield, Darlene McKenney, Joyce Marshall, Jill Moffett, Nancy Roberts Morgan, Doris Parker and Tracy Poland. Francis Buckman and Douglas Saxe were not present, having received their GED diplomas earlier in the year.

Adult and Community Education faculty members Mac Davis, Rod Abbott, Ted Davis and Ann Holt presented book awards to the graduates, all speaking about their experiences in Adult and Community Education, and offering personal comments on each graduate. Mac Davis spoke about the respect he has for his adult students for their expanding confidence and abilities and their desire to learn. He remarked that teaching adult education courses is an excellent antidote for the common problem of "teacher burnout." Rod Abbott highlighted the sacrifice made by all of the graduates in coming back to school, despite pressures of work and family responsibilities. Ted Davis underlined the remarks of both previous faculty members, and expressed the hope that the graduates would continue to study and that several of his math and accounting students this year exhibited a great amount of potential. Ann Holt, who worked with GED preparation this year, spoke about GED as a step toward further study and remarked that she found it exciting to see some of her former students who had dropped out of Telstar returning to earn their diplomas.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell presented the first Adult and Community Education Community Recognition Award to Seymour and Muriel Butters, who as correspondents for the Lewiston Daily Sun, have provided such excellent coverage for the activities of the Adult and Community Education program.

Following the benediction, an informal reception was enjoyed by the graduates and the approximately 100 guests present.

the general assembly of the membership, staff and guests from Bethel, Harrison, and West Paris where the bank maintains branches, to hear the report of the President, Raymond G. Moran.

Members of the Board of Corporators are: Avery Angevine, Ernest Angevine, Colleen F. Boyd, Dana G. Brooks, Jr., Donald E. Brooks, Norris T. Brown, Robert A. Crane, Margaret A. Davis, Richard L. Davis, William H. Gibson, Gordon M. Gillies, Norman I. Greig, Annie E. Hastings, Hugo A. Heikkinen, Philip C. Jackson, Arlan R. Jodrey, Paul G. Kallay, Maurice L. Kendall, Ronald C. Kendall, Robert F. Keniston, E. Louise Lincoln, Blake E. MacKay, Raymond G. Moran, Michael J. O'Donnell, Gary C. Searles, Dexter M. Stowell, Margaret J. Tibbetts, John W. Trinward, Edmond J. Vachon, Edward J. Wentworth, Stephen W. Wight, Dennis A. Wilson. Newly elected members include Sterling A. Millings, Bryant Pond; Robert L. Blake, Bethel; Raymond K. Brown, North Waterford; and William F. Winslow, Harrison.

In a continuing effort to bring corporators in closer relation with the operation of the Bank, the Board voted to create a separate group of term trustees to serve a stipulated number of years thus providing a greater opportunity for more corporators to gain experience on the Board of Trustees. Elected as term trustees were Gordon Gillies, Bethel attorney, and Stephen W. Wight, owner-operator of the Sunday River Inn. (For further details on these two new trustees, see elsewhere in this issue of the Bethel Citizen.) Gillies and Wight fill vacancies created by resignations of Dexter M. Stowell and R. Warren Hastings, who served the bank well and with distinction over the years but whose added involvement in personal business made it difficult for them to continue in their service. Continuing members of the Board of Trustees are: Norris T. Brown, Philip C. Jackson, Ronald C. Kendall, E. Louise Lincoln, Raymond G. Moran, John W. Trinward and Edmond J. Vachon.

Copies of the trial balance were mailed to the membership in advance for study and analysis and the report was adopted unanimously.

Following adjournment members of the Corporation, guests and staff enjoyed a tasty and bounteous dinner of roast turkey with all the fixings prepared and served most capably by the staff of the Bethel Inn. Plaudits for quality, quantity and service were numerous and spontaneous.

Time after the meal was reserved for a report of the President, Raymond G. Moran, on the special events in banking that characterized the past year, the problems created by the high cost of money, high interest rates on loans which are contributing to crippling new construction starts and home sales and inflation. Of special interest are the rapid changes in banking brought about by federal legislation leading to gradual de-regulation of financial institutions over the next few years. The future calls for innovative practices and alert management to steer a successful course.

Following the dinner, the Board of Trustees held an organizational meeting and elected its officers and administrative staff as follows: Chairman of the Board, Edmond J. Vachon; President, Raymond G. Moran; Vice President, Kimball Ames; Treasurer and Clerk, Colleen F. Boyd; Assistant Treasurer, Frances M. Clark; Assistant Treasurer and Bethel Branch Manager, Vicky B. Myers; Assistant Treasurer and Branch Manager, Harrison, Patricia Purdy; Branch Supervisor, West Paris, Jan Bradeen; Secretary-Receptionist, Cecilia Hoy; Bookkeeper, Dorothy Bartlett; Head Teller, Jean Owen; Tellers, Mary Ellen Andrews, Judith Webster, Deborah Greene, Janice Grover, E. Louise Merrill and Roberta Ross.

Stephen Henderson was at his camp over the week end.

South Woodstock —

Olive Davis, Corres.

The Willing Workers met with Esther Davis the 25th of May, with six members present and four visitors. Being Memorial Day, some were unable to attend. It was voted to have a food sale at the Flea market at Ledgewood on the 14th of June. The supper for the Willing Workers and families will be June 28. Program will be announced later. This is a pot luck supper. After the meeting adjourned, Sigrid Anderson, an exchange student at Telstar, showed slides on her country, Sweden. Part of them were above the Arctic Circle and were very interesting.

The black flies make life miserable for all who are working outdoors now. I don't think I ever saw them so thick here as are now. The flies take a bite out of me bigger than they are. I have put on fly dope twice while planting the garden—something I always hated to do—so they are really bad.

We were sorry to hear of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mason's infant son passing away at the Norway hospital this week. Our sympathy is extended to them.

Mrs. Esther Davis had Jackie and Neil Tibbetts with her over the week end. These are her two grandchildren that live here in Maine.

Everyone has been busy decorating their cemetery lots and attending the various services in West Paris and Bryant Pond the first of this week, before the 25th of May. I went to seven different family lots.

Edmund Mason and crew put in Olive Davis' wood for next winter this week end.

Kenneth Koskela put a patch on the lower part of the road where the tarvia broke out, leaving a big hole that was dangerous. Many thanks to them. It set my mind at rest. There is always so much to do around buildings.

The barn swallows are flying low which is a sign of a storm I am told. Has anyone else heard about that?

June 1 is a bit cool after showers and rain Saturday night and Sunday morning.

It looks like we will have two good weeks ends for memorial, last week was for the tourists and the up-coming one for the legal memorial. It seems sad we have to change our holiday all around so more people can get killed on our highways.

MIDDLE INTERVALE MEETING HOUSE SOCIETY TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society will be held at 7 p. m. at the Meeting House on June 10, according to Society President Stanley Howe.

The last meeting was held April 30 at Moses Mason House Museum at which time reports from all officers were heard. The treasurer's report showed some further gifts towards the work of restoration, and Louise Amis who is in charge of note paper sales reported a sum from that and the group viewed a new sketch by Artist Helen Monton, to be used for the next stationery order—this shows the outside restoration.

There is still the prospect of another concert at the Meeting House. The resignation of Mrs. Robert Noll (Marr) from the board was announced and accepted with regret.

Chairman Steve Wight and his restoration committee discussed the work to be done and it was agreed to consult with various persons whose experience and knowledge of the jobs to be done, would be useful in compiling estimates for each part of the interior work, and to have this information ready for the annual meeting.

Renewal of memberships are due and will be sought by the membership committee, and its chairman, Mrs. Raymond Buck. Any person interested in the restoration of this important building in Bethel's early history, should be interested in becoming a member. All meetings are open to anyone who is interested.

Any officer or board member will be happy to talk with anyone contemplating a gift to help further the restoration. The project to sell the foundation stones continues and people are finding this a good way to memorialize family members or friends. Recognition will be given these persons in a suitable plaque on the Meeting House wall.

President Howe announces that the nominating committee to select nominees for election at the annual meeting is: Mrs. Louise Amis, Mrs. Agnes Haines and Mrs. Barbara Lyon Kuzyk, all of Bethel. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe are pleased to announce the marriage of their son, Sp4 Alan Lowe, to Miss Hyang Im No, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kil Yong No, of Chonnam-do, Korea. The couple are residing in Seoul, Korea, where Sp4 Lowe is now stationed having recently re-enlisted with the U. S. Army.

CHANGES IN TELSTAR CURRICULUM/PUPIL MANAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Proposed changes in the curriculum and pupil management practices at Telstar Regional High School were presented to the M.S. A.D. 44 Directors at a recent meeting. The changes have been adopted and are to be implemented for the 1981-82 school year.

The first of these changes establishes the maximum number of non-traditional credits that shall be awarded towards graduation. One credit of independent study, one credit of correspondence study, and one credit of teacher aide shall be accepted. In order for the student to receive credit for non-traditional courses, the student must follow the guidelines established in the 1981-82 course guide.

In order to maintain the optimal class size and to insure equal opportunity for all qualified students to elect courses there shall be no doubling up of English and Social Studies courses. The only exception to this policy shall be students who are enrolled in the N.O.V.A. program and those students who need a specific course due to failing a course in either English or Social Studies.

Sophomores who have demonstrated academic promise by maintaining a grade of 85% or better in World Studies II shall be allowed to elect the American Studies sequence of courses. The American Studies sequence is normally geared for students in their junior year of high school.

Basic skills courses in Woodworking, Business, and some Social Studies will be expanded from nine week offerings to 18 week offerings. It is expected that the material covered in these courses will be more in depth than at present.

Due to recent enrollment trends the courses in Latin and German I have been deleted from the curriculum offerings. Students wishing to pursue foreign languages will be encouraged to elect French and Spanish courses of study.

In the area of pupil management two significant changes will take place in September. Study halls are to be instituted for all students in grades nine through twelve. Also phase two of the "Telstar smoke out" is to be implemented. Students in grades nine and ten will not be granted smoking area privileges. It is expected that the phase out of the smoking area will continue in future years.

A meeting was held Thursday, May 28, for parents of eighth graders to review the changes and orient parents to the high school. Students have been issued curriculum guides and will be selecting courses of study for the ensuing year.
